Mission

The mission of the Syracuse City School District (SCSD) English as a New Language and Bilingual Education Department is to ensure that all English Language learners (ELLs)/Multilingual Learners (MLLs) will acquire and develop English language proficiency through the receipt of a rigorous curriculum, research-based teaching strategies and social/emotional supports that will provide integration into all school programs and services, and enhance adaptation skills and academic success; this will enable ELLs/MLLs to become part of the American culture, and will serve as a cornerstone for developing confident life-long learners who can actively contribute in their global world.

Vision

It is our vision that ELLs/MLLs understand, speak, read, and write English fluently and competently in order to succeed academically and socially in their classrooms, schools, and communities at large. The following guiding principles support our vision:

- ELLs/MLLs are held to the same high expectations of learning established for all students.
- ELLs/MLLs receive instruction that builds on their previous education and cognitive abilities and that reflects their language proficiency levels.
- Individual needs are respected and accommodated through the use of various instructional methods fostering high academic achievement.
- ELLs/MLLs reach challenging content and performance standards in all content areas, including reading and language arts, mathematics, social studies, science, the fine arts, health and physical education, consistent with those for all students.
- ELL/MLL students are proportionately represented in all school programs and services.
- The academic success of ELLs/MLLs is a responsibility shared by all educators, the family, and the community.

Introduction

Approximately 3,200 students in Kindergarten through Grade 12, representing almost 75 different languages, are ELLs/MLLs in the Syracuse City School District (SCSD) which comprises nearly 16% of the district's total enrollment. State and federal statutes, as well as SCSD policies, provide the basis and structure for the ELL/MLL Education Programs in the SCSD that include the Dual Language Program, the English as a New Language (ENL) Program, and the Newcomer Language Academy. The goal of the instructional programs for ELLs/MLLs in the Syracuse City School District is to ensure that students acquire academic English language proficiency, achieve academically in English and are able to participate in age-appropriate academic content that is driven by the Common Core Learning Standards.

The Syracuse City School District English Language Learner/Multilingual Learner Education Program Guidebook was developed for administrators, teachers, central office staff, and the community as a reference for effectively implementing SCSD ELL/MLL Education Programs. The content of the guidebook provides an understanding of the Federal requirements and the New York State Office of Bilingual Education policies, guidelines and recommendations for providing services to language minority, immigrant and refugee students. In order to assist administrators and teachers in implementing ELL/MLL Education Programs in their schools, this guidebook has been designed to:

- Serve as a guide and reference tool to clarify policies and program requirements
- Offer administrators guidance in components of effective programs
- Offer teachers guidelines, policies, and program requirements
- Offer the community information regarding SCSD ELL/MLL Education Program policies, practices and requirements

Goals

Dual Language and Bilingual Program Goals

By helping ELLs/MLLs and native English speakers achieve high standards in English and another language, dual language programs are an effective model for schools to achieve the goals outlined in the SCSD mission and vision statements. Dual language programs include both English Language Learners who are native speakers of the partner language and native English speakers who serve as language models for each other as students together learn two languages. Bilingual programs are solely for ELLs/MLLs and have similar goals as dual language programs. Goals for dual language and bilingual programs:

- Provide Emerging Bilingual Students the opportunity to reach a high level of academic achievement in both languages.
- Develop Native Language Proficiency and English Language Proficiency in order to promote bilingualism and biliteracy as students move through the grade levels.
- Develop positive cross cultural attitudes, multicultural and linguistic awareness to foster biculturalism.

English as a New Language (ENL) Program Goals

In the state of New York, the term English as a Second Language (ESL) has transitioned to become English as a New Language (ENL). ENL will be the new term used in SCSD and throughout this document.

The goals of the ENL program are for English Language Learners to develop full English language proficiency, while simultaneously developing a high level of academic achievement in English, through the use of ENL techniques and strategies. English as a New Language instruction is designed to develop skills in listening, speaking, reading, writing and communicating in English through the integration of academic content appropriate for the student's age, grade level and English language skills.

Policies

The following provides a brief description of the policies that constitute the basis and structure for the Syracuse City School District's ELL/MLL Education Programs.

Federal Policies

1. Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. § 2000d et seq. E VI OF THE CIVIL U.S.C. 0D ET SEQ.

Title VI was enacted as part of the landmark Civil Rights Act of 1964. It prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, and national origin in programs and activities receiving federal assistance.

<http://www.justice.gov/crt/about/cor/coord/titlevistat.php>

2. Lau v. Nichols 414 U.S. 563 (1974).

The U.S. Supreme Court affirmed the need for school districts to take steps to help Limited-English Proficient (LEP) students overcome language barriers and to ensure that they can participate meaningfully in the district's educational programs.

<http://www.nabe.org/Resources/Documents/Advocacy%20page/LauvNichols.pdf>

3. Castañeda v. Pickard 648 F.2d 989 (5th Cir., 1981).

Castañeda requires programs that educate children with limited English proficiency to be:

- based on a sound educational theory
- adequately supported, with adequate and effective staff and resources, so that the program has a realistic chance of success; and

- periodically evaluated and, if necessary, revised

4. Plyler v. Doe, 457 U.S. 202 (1982).

The Supreme Court ruled that the Fourteenth Amendment prohibits states from denying a free public education to undocumented immigrant children regardless of their immigrant status.

5. Every Student Succeeds Act ESSA of 2015 – Title III, Language Instruction for English Learners and Immigrant Students

Passed by Congress in 2015, ESSA is the latest reauthorization of the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA). Title III, relates specifically to language instruction for English learners and immigrant students.

6. Equal Access

Federal law mandates that ELLs/MLLs “may participate in all federal or other programs available within the school for which they qualify. Collaboration among programs to provide services to students should maximize the benefits to the students. Students must have access to and should be encouraged to participate in all aspects of the academic and extracurricular opportunities available in the district.”

New York State Policies

New York State Commissioner's Regulation - CR Part 154

Commissioner's Regulation Part 154 establishes standards for the education of ELL/MLL students and assures that such pupils are provided opportunities to achieve the same educational goals and standards as the general student population. In accordance with the provisions of this Part, each school district shall provide pupils with limited English proficiency equal access to all school programs and services offered by the district commensurate with their ages and grade level, including access to programs required for graduation:

On November 17, 2014, the Board of Regents adopted the Department's proposal of Subpart 154-3 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education. This Subpart relates to the establishment of criteria for determining whether a student with a disability shall take the statewide English language proficiency identification, effective December 3, 2014. This is available at the link below:

Syracuse City School District (SCSD) Policies

Policy #4326 - Limited English Proficiency Instruction. October 16, 2002

The Board of Education believes that students, who by reason of foreign birth or ancestry have limited English proficiency, will be more effective learners of both the language and the curriculum if they receive instruction in both their native language and English. The District will therefore make every effort to ensure that limited English proficient (LEP) students are provided with an appropriate program of bilingual education or freestanding English as a Second Language Program.

Pursuant to this policy and the regulations of the Commissioner of Education, the Superintendent of Schools is directed to develop appropriate administrative regulations to ensure that LEP students are:

- Diagnostically screened for limited English proficiency, in accordance with Part 117 of the Commissioner's Regulations. Those students who according to their scores are identified as LEP will be annually evaluated. Included in the evaluation shall be each student's performance in the content areas to measure academic progress;

- Assured of access to appropriate instructional and support services, including guidance programs; and
- Assured of having equal opportunities to participate in all school programs and extracurricular activities as non-LEP students.

The Superintendent shall be responsible for ensuring that the Commissioner is provided with all information required under the Commissioner's Regulations and that the district provides appropriate school-related information to the parents of LEP students in English, or when necessary, in the language they understand. In addition, the Superintendent shall ensure that all teachers employed for any bilingual and/or ESL program are properly certified in accordance with the Commissioner's Regulation.

English Language Learners (ELLs)/ Multilingual Learners (MLLs)

ELLs/MLLs are students who speak a language other than English at home and in school, and testing indicates these students have some limitations in their English language proficiency, whether it is speaking, listening, reading, writing, or a combination of two or more. Other terms are often times used interchangeably with ELLs/MLLs are Limited English Proficient (LEP) and English as a Second Language (ESL) student. ELL is the preferred term in most of the literature, because of the negative connotation seen in LEP. The state of New York is transitioning to use Multilingual Learner (MLL) in place of ELL, and during this transition, ELL/MLL is used in SCSD and throughout this document.

ELLs/MLLs are a highly heterogeneous and complex group of students, with diverse gifts, educational needs, backgrounds, languages, and goals. Some ELL/MLL students come from homes in which no English is spoken, while some come from homes where English may be spoken in addition to their native language or possibly multiple languages. ELL/MLL students may have a deep sense of their non-U.S. culture, a strong sense of multiple cultures, or identify only with U.S. culture. Some ELL/MLL students live in cultural enclaves while their fellow ELL/MLL students are surrounded by non-ELL/MLL families, while some ELL/MLL students' families have lived in the U.S. for over a generation.

New learners of English are often overwhelmed by the language and culture of a new school setting. Most students entering public schools from other countries have acquired the ability to think, speak and reason in their home languages however, they arrive with various levels of education and life experiences.

All ELL/MLL students are learning English at the same time they are learning content, and each ELL/MLL student falls at a different point on the spectrums of experiences described above. There is no one single comprehensive profile for an ELL/MLL student, nor is one single response adequate to meet their educational goals and needs. These factors, along with differences in learning styles and physical, social and intellectual abilities, affect the students' progress in learning and must be considered in the design and delivery of their instructional programs.

New York State Limited Proficient Identification Process

School districts are required to implement an identification process to determine if a student is an English Language Learner when a student initially enrolls or reenters in a New York State (NYS) public school. The identification process must commence no later than the date of the student's initial enrollment or reentry in a NYS district. The process must be completed and a determination made within 10 school days of initial enrollment or reentry into a NYS public school.

The NYS Identification flowchart can be found on this link:

<http://www.p12.nysed.gov/biling/docs/ELLIDCHARTrev.pdf>

New York State Identification Tool for English Language Learners (NYSITELL)

The New York State Identification Tool for English Language Learners (NYSITELL) was developed by The New York State Education Department (NYSED) and adopted by NYSED to identify those incoming students who may be eligible for bilingual education or ENL services. All incoming students who live in a home where a language other than English is spoken, as confirmed by the Home Language Questionnaire (HLQ), are tested with the NYSITELL upon admission to a public school. A score below the designated cut score for the child determines eligibility for ENL or bilingual services. The NYSITELL is administered only once to each incoming student. After placement into either a bilingual or ENL classroom, achievement in the English language is measured annually with the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), as described in the assessment component of this guidebook.

SCSD Student Registration Procedures

Central Registration Center (CRC): Screening, Identification, and Placement Overview

The SCSD Central Registration Center (CRC), located at 1005 W. Fayette Street, 4th floor, provides a streamlined student registration process in one location. An initial language assessment is given for all students enrolling into the SCSD, the Home Language Questionnaire (HLQ). CR Part 154 requires school districts to ascertain the primary language of every student in order to ensure that every non-native speaker of English is correctly identified. When a student enrolls in the school district, and identifies a language other than English to one or more of the questions in the student language information section, the student is considered to have a primary language other than English. An interview is then conducted with interpreter support and the language assessor then administers the NYSITELL, as prescribed by Commissioner's Regulations Part 117 and Part 154.

ELL/MLL students are placed in a grade level that is age-appropriate (high school placements are based on credit attribution after careful transcript evaluation). The CRC staff communicates with the ENL/Bilingual and World Languages Education Office to ensure appropriate placement of students in schools with bilingual and/or English as a New Language (ENL) services. The SCSD CRC provides parents with orientation information, which is available in several home languages.

Registration Procedures

1. All new students must register at the SCSD Central Registration Center (CRC) to complete the registration process. Families that arrive directly at schools are referred to the CRC.
2. At the CRC, all parents are given the Home Language Questionnaire to complete in their preferred language. The HLQ is completed for each new student enrolling in SCSD. The HLQ can be found at http://www.p12.nysed.gov/biling/docs/HLQ\_English\_1.6.16.pdf.
3. If responses to the HLQ indicate that a language other than English is spoken in the home or by the student:
  - An oral interview with the student and the parent(s)/guardian(s) is conducted.
  - Refer to CR Part 154-3 procedures if student has an IEP. (Students with IEP will be referred to the Language Proficiency Team (LPT) to determine if the student with an IEP may have second language acquisition needs, and the LPT will determine whether the student should take the NYSITELL).
  - The New York State Identification Test for English Language Learners (NYSITELL) is administered to the student to determine the English language proficiency (ELP) level. If the student has an IEP, CR Part 154-3 procedures are followed to determine if the student should take the NYSITELL with or without accommodations or should take an alternate assessment. If the student is determined to be English proficient, the student is enrolled according to standard procedures for non-ELLs.
  - The student's records and transcripts are reviewed for credit verification and grade placement, and language proficiency assessment results are analyzed.
  - If after a review of the student's records, the student is identified as a potential Student with Interrupted/Inconsistent

Formal Education (SIFE). The student will be administered the pending NYSED SIFE Questionnaire and Diagnostic Tool to determine SIFE status.

- Parents are informed of student’s ELL/MLL status (and SIFE status, if applicable) and counseled about program options for which their student is eligible (e.g., dual language program [Seymour Dual Language Academy or Delaware Primary Dual Language program], bilingual education program, or English as a New Language [ENL] program). Eligibility factors for dual language and bilingual education programs include age, grade level, English proficiency and Spanish proficiency levels. Bilingual education programs (including dual language programs) are the default program placement, unless parents specifically request an ENL program.
- If parents request the dual language program (Seymour Dual Language Academy or Delaware Primary Dual Language Program) or a bilingual education program, SCSD staff reviews availability for placement.
- If space is available, the registration process is completed and parents are provided with orientation materials in their preferred language. The family is referred to the dual language program [Seymour Dual Language Academy or Delaware Primary Dual Language Program] or a bilingual education program and the student enrolls in school.
- If the dual language program or the bilingual education program request is denied, and there is availability in the other program (dual language or bilingual education) the parents are informed and they may select to have the student enroll in the other program. If there is not availability in either the dual language or bilingual education program, the family is referred to the closest school offering an ENL program that has availability. The parents are provided with orientation materials in their preferred language. The family is referred to the appropriate school and the student is enrolled in the school.

- If parents opt-out of a dual language or bilingual program and request an ENL program, the registration process is completed and parents are provided with orientation materials in their preferred language. The family is referred to the closest school offering an ENL program that has availability, and the student is enrolled in school.

In summary, Figure 1 is a representative of the screening, identification, and placement processes in the district’s Central Registration Center. Appendix A provides the registration phases in detail.

Maintaining ELL Student Records

Districts are required to maintain documentation that demonstrates compliance with Federal and State regulations. ELL students’ folders must ensure that records are easily accessible by teachers and administrators at the school and district levels. The ENL cumulative folder should contain the minimum:

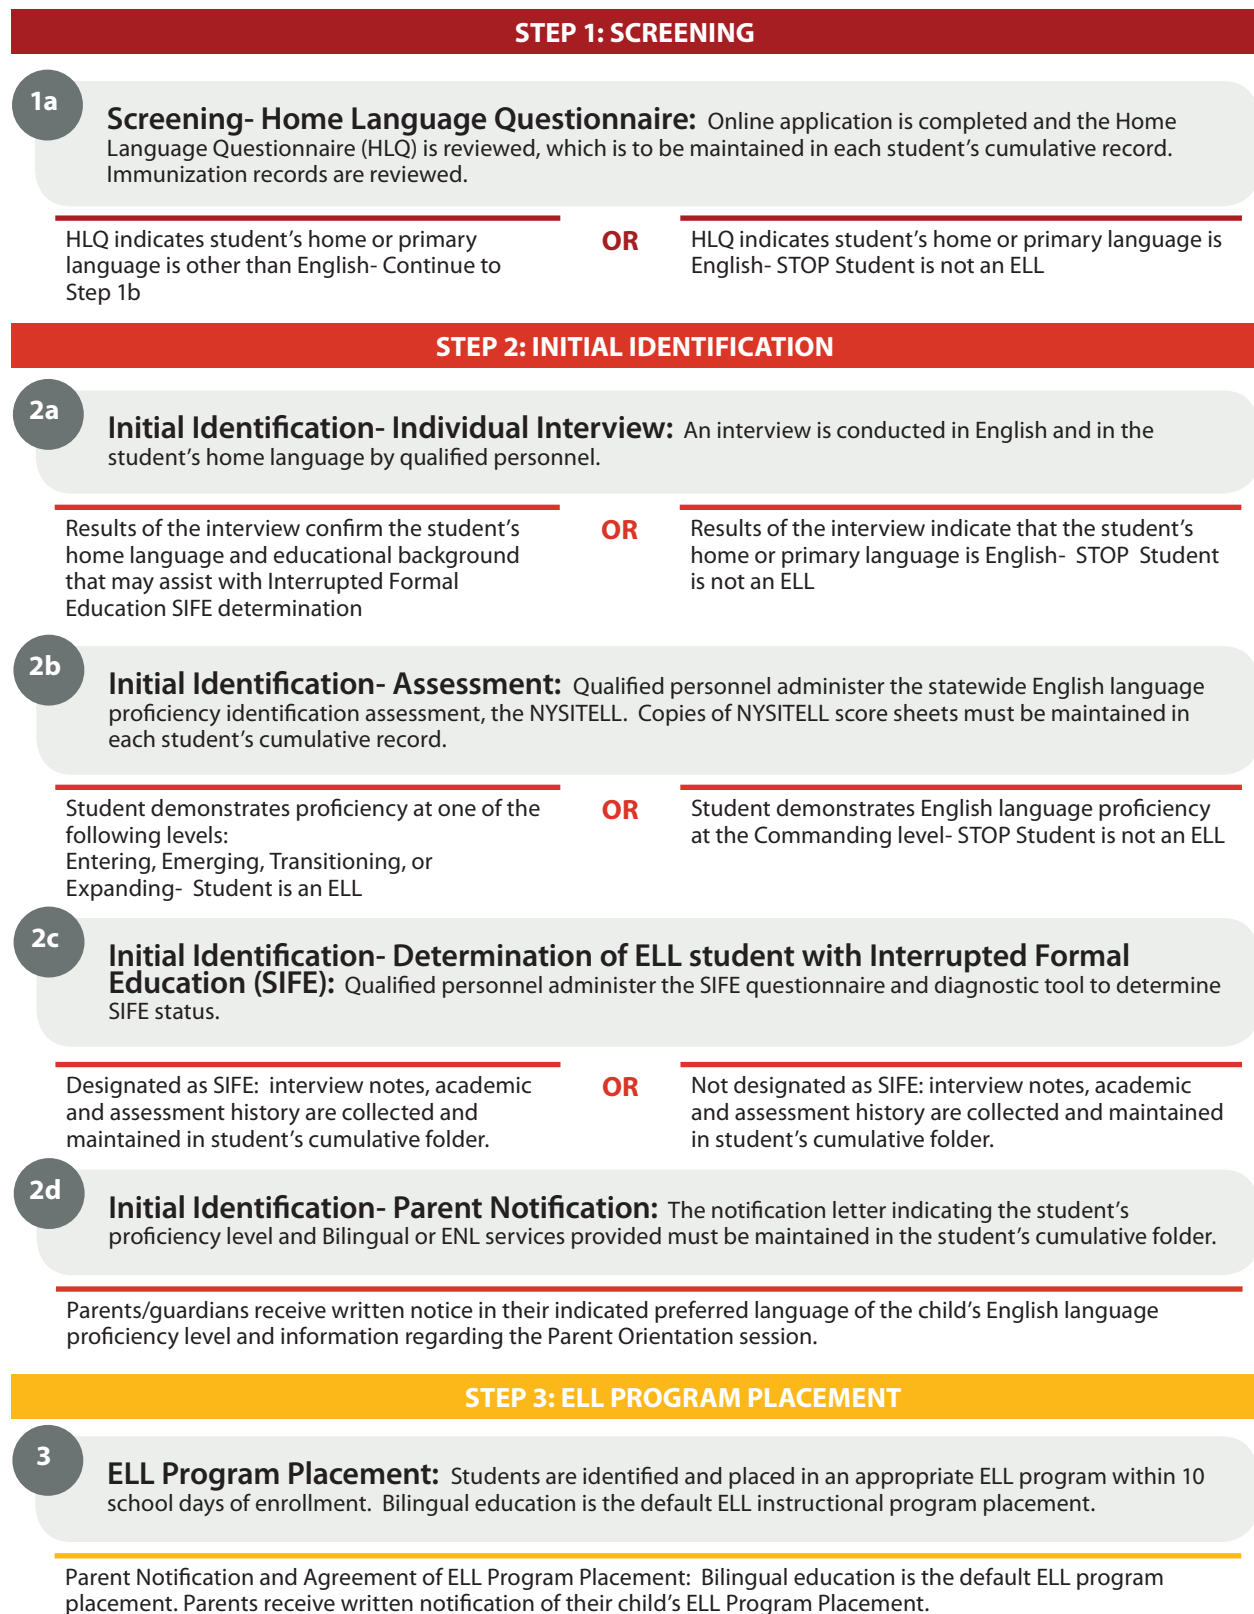

- Completed and signed Home Language Questionnaire
- Results of the NYSITELL
- All parent notifications
- Parent meetings
- Communication with parents in a language they understand

Note: ELL student records are auditable by the Office of Bilingual Education.

<sup>3</sup>* Students with Interrupted/Inconsistent Formal Education (SIFE) are defined in the following way in CR-154-2 : (y) Students with Inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education shall mean English Language Learners who have attended schools in the United States (the 50 States and the District of Columbia) for less than twelve months and who, upon initial enrollment in such schools are two or more years below grade level in literacy in their home language and/or two or more years below grade level in Math due to inconsistent or interrupted schooling prior to arrival in the United States (the 50 States and the District of Columbia). (CR-154-2, p.26).

New York State Education Department Language Proficiency Levels

The New York State Education Department (NYSED) Commissioner's Regulations, Part 154 identifies levels of English proficiency for ELLs/MLLs. Students' levels of proficiency are initially determined through the NYSITELL (New York State Identification Test for English Language Learners), which is administered to an incoming student upon entry into the school system. Progress in learning English as a second/new language is measured each spring by the NYSESLAT (New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test). The scores on the NYSESLAT indicate the proficiency level the student has achieved each year, and whether or not the student's level of English proficiency is high enough to exit the ENL or bilingual program.

In 2015-16, there was a transition from the three previous English language proficiency (ELP) levels (Beginning, Intermediate and Advanced) to five ELP levels in New York State. Figure 2 and 3 on the following pages show the correlation of the three previous levels (in parentheses) to the five new levels of English language proficiency (Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, Expanding, and Commanding) and also delineate the required amount of ENL instructional time per new level.

Five Levels of Language Proficiency

The use of five levels reflects the complexity of language development and allows the tracking of student progress across grade levels within the same scale. The five levels of language proficiency reflect characteristics of language performance at each developmental stage. The language proficiency levels are intended to highlight and provide a model of the process of language acquisition.

Level 1 – Entering

Students initially have limited or no understanding of English. They rarely use English for communication. They respond nonverbally to simple commands, statements, and questions. As their oral comprehension increases, they begin to imitate the verbalizations of others by using single words or simple phrases, and they begin to use English spontaneously.

At the earliest stage, these learners construct meaning from text primarily through illustrations, graphs, maps, and tables.

Level 2-Emerging

Students can understand phrases and short sentences. They can communicate limited information in simple every day and routine situations by using memorized phrases, groups of words, and formulae. They can use selected simple structures correctly but still systematically produce basic errors. Students begin to use general academic vocabulary and familiar everyday expressions. Errors in writing are present that often hinder communication.

Level 3-Transitioning

Students understand more complex speech but still may require some repetition. They use English spontaneously but may have difficulty expressing all their thoughts due to a restricted vocabulary and a limited command of language structure. Students at this level speak in simple sentences, which are comprehensible and appropriate, but which are frequently marked by grammatical errors. Proficiency in reading may vary considerably. Students are most successful constructing meaning from texts for which they have background knowledge upon which to build.

Level 4-Expanding

Students' language skills are adequate for most day-to-day communication needs. They communicate in English in new or unfamiliar settings but have occasional difficulty with complex structures and abstract academic concepts. Students at this level may read with considerable fluency and are able to locate and identify the specific facts within the text. However, they may not understand texts in which the concepts are presented in a decontextualized manner, the sentence structure is complex, or the vocabulary is abstract or has multiple meanings. They can read independently but may have occasional comprehension problems, especially when processing grade-level information.

Level 5-Commanding

Students can express themselves fluently and spontaneously on a wide range of personal, general, academic, or social topics in a variety of contexts. They are poised to function in an environment with native speaking peers with minimal language support or guidance. Students have a good command of technical and academic vocabulary as well of idiomatic expressions and colloquialisms. They can produce clear, smoothly flowing, well-structured texts of differing lengths and degrees of linguistic complexity. Errors are minimal, difficult to spot, and generally corrected when they occur.

CR- Subpart 154-2, delineates the following new NYSED English Language Proficiency Levels and required instruction effective for the 2015-16 school year:

(1) English as New Language K-8. Each school district shall provide an English as a New Language program in grades K-8, based on a student's English language proficiency level, as identified by the statewide English language proficiency identification assessment or the annual English language proficiency assessment, as follows:

(iv) Advanced/Expanding: Students shall receive at least one unit of study or its equivalent of Integrated English as New Language instruction. A student shall earn one unit of credit in a content area for successful completion of the Integrated English as a New Language unit of study in a content area other than English Language Arts.

(v) Proficient/Commanding: For at least two school years following the school year in which a student is exited from English Language Learner status, as prescribed in section 154-2.3(m) of this Subpart, such student shall receive at least one half of one unit of study or its equivalent of Integrated English as a New Language or such other services that monitor and support their language development and academic progress, as shall be approved by the Commissioner to assist Former English Language Learners once they have exited from an English as a New Language or Bilingual Education program.

All programs must be provided during the school day.

ELL/MLL Students with Interrupted Formal Education (SIFE)

Students with inconsistent/Interrupted Formal Education shall mean English Language Learners who have attended schools in the United States (the 50 States and the District Columbia) for less than twelve months and who, upon initial enrollment in such schools are two or more years below grade level in literacy in their home language and/or two or more years below grade level in Math due to inconsistent or interrupted schooling prior to arrival in the United States (the 50 States and the District of Columbia).

(CR-Subpart 154- 2, pg. 26)

The early identification of ELLs/MLLs with interrupted formal education is essential, as they represent an at-risk population. Schools must begin to collect and disaggregate data including such variables as age of arrival, mobility, years of schooling at time of arrival, and breadth and scope of content learned in both the native country and the United States. As these students are highly heterogeneous, multiple and varied interventions may be required.

Transcript Analysis

The guidance counselors in their respective schools review all entering students' transcripts. Assistance with translations may be necessary. The guidance counselor does the awarding of credit after analyzing prior documented coursework.

ELL/MLL Education Program Models

The New York State Education Department (NYSED) requires that ELLs/MLLs be identified (as outlined in the SCSD Registration Procedures section of this guidebook) and provided appropriate services. The following excerpt from Commissioner's Regulations (CR) Subpart 154-2 (effective October 1, 2014) describes this requirement for services.

Services for English Language Learners for Programs Operated in the 2015-16 School Year and Thereafter

154-2.1 Scope of Subpart and applicability.

(a) The purpose of this Subpart is to establish standards for school districts having students with limited English proficiency (hereinafter, "English Language Learners") to assure that such students are provided opportunities to achieve the same educational goals and standards that have been established by the Board of Regents for all students. In accordance with the provisions of this Part, each school district shall provide English Language Learners equal access to all school programs and services offered by the school district, commensurate with the student's age and grade level, including access to programs required for graduation. In addition, in accordance with this Part, each school district shall provide English Language Learners with Bilingual Education or English as a New Language (formerly, English as a Second Language) programs. The provisions of this Subpart shall apply to programs operated beginning with the 2015-2016 school year, except as otherwise provided in this Part (CR -Subpart 154-2, p.20).

CR-Subpart 154-2 defines a bilingual education program in the following way:

(b) Bilingual Education program shall mean a research-based program comprised of three components: (1) a language arts instruction component, including Home Language Arts and English Language Arts; (2) an English as a New Language component; and (3) a bilingual content area instructional component (including all bilingual content areas, i.e. math, science, and social studies, depending on the Bilingual Education program model and the student's level of English language development, but must at a minimum include at least two bilingual core content areas, i.e. math, science, and social studies) (CR-Subpart 154-2, p.21).

Current research describes three major types of research-based bilingual education programs that meet the NYSED bilingual education requirements for school districts (Faulkner-Bond et al., 2012).

The following section provides descriptions of each of these three types of bilingual education programs (dual language, developmental bilingual education and transitional bilingual education).

Types of Research-Based Bilingual Education Models

Dual language programs (also referred to as Two-Way immersion [TWI] or dual immersion programs): Dual language programs enroll equal populations of ELLs/MLLs and non-ELLs/MLLs and instruct both groups in English and the non-English partner language. The goals of the program are academic achievement, bilingualism, biliteracy and biculturalism. Programs follow either a 50:50 model or a 90:10 model (which ultimately transitions to 50:50) and may balance languages by dividing instructional time according to content area, class period, instructor, day, week, unit or semester. Each group of students acquires language and content-area knowledge in their own language as well as in the partner language.

Developmental bilingual education (DBE) programs (also referred to as late-exit bilingual or maintenance bilingual): Developmental bilingual education programs are generally programs only for ELLs/MLLs. These programs offer a balance of instruction in the non-English language and English with goals of academic achievement, bilingualism and biliteracy. Programs follow either a 50:50 model or a 90:10 model (which ultimately transitions to 50:50) and may balance languages by dividing instructional time according to content area, class period, instructor, day, week, unit or semester. Students acquire language and content-area knowledge in English and the non-English language.

Transitional bilingual education (TBE) programs (also referred to as early-exit bilingual): Transitional bilingual education programs are programs for ELLs/MLLs that begin using the students' first language and make an incremental transition to an all English program. The goal of the program is academic achievement and development of English proficiency. The programs begin with instruction exclusively or mostly in the students' first language and gradually more English is added until a complete transition to all English instruction is made in mid- to late elementary school.

CR-Subpart 154-2 specifies that bilingual education is the default model provided to students. When parents refuse or opt-out of bilingual education services, English as a New Language (formerly English a Second Language) programs are provided. CR-Subpart 154-2 defines English a New Language programs in the following way:

- (h) English as a New Language program shall mean a research-based program comprised of two components: a content area instructional component in English (including all core content, i.e. English language arts, math, science, or social studies) with home language supports and appropriate scaffolds, and an English language development component (Stand-alone and/or Integrated English as a New Language) (CR-Subpart 154-2, p. 22).

Each school with an enrollment of 20 or more limited English proficient students, in any language classification, in the same grade level district-wide, is offered a Bilingual Education Program. Parents can elect to have their children placed in a bilingual program established in the district with ENL services, or they can have their children receive ENL services only from a Stand-Alone program. Parents are advised that they may elect to withdraw their child from participation in an instructional bilingual education program, but they cannot elect to withdraw their child from ENL services. Figure 4 depicts the ELL/MLL program models in the Syracuse City School District.

Dual Language Program Model

The designated model for dual language programs in SCSD schools is the 50:50 model. With the 50:50 model, students receive 50% of their instruction in English and 50% in the partner language. Reading instruction varies among programs. In some instances, students learn first to read in their home language, and in some instances reading is taught in both languages simultaneously (Lindholm-Leary, 2012).

Characteristics of Exemplary Dual Language Programs

There is tremendous consistency between characteristics of exemplary dual language programs and the instructional practices used in effective mainstream schools and classrooms (Lindholm-Leary, 2005). Effective practices are described as those that support students' academic achievement, language proficiency development, school attendance, and motivation. In addition to general practices of effective instruction, there are also some key considerations for dual language programs. The characteristics that apply to all programs are; having a vision, assessment and accountability, curriculum and instruction, and staff quality and professional development.

Dual Language Program Scheduling

In the dual language program model, native-English speaking students and students who are native speakers of the partner language serve as peer language models for each other as the students together learn two languages. In an ideal setting, classrooms should be composed of an equal 50:50 ratio of native English speakers and native speakers of the partner language. While the 50:50 ratio is ideal, it is sometimes not feasible in certain school communities, and in those cases, a ratio of up to 70:30 (or approximately 2:1) of native speakers of each language is recommended as the minimum balance required to have enough second language peers in a class to stimulate the second language acquisition process effectively (Gomez, Freeman & Freeman, 2005; Lindholm-Leary, 2005; Rosado, 2005; Torres-Guzman et al., 2005; Paciotto & Delany-Barmann, 2011).

Dual language programs must plan carefully so that only one language is used at a time, however, how language use is scheduled can vary by content area, time, day or even week (Torres-Guzman et al., 2005). Research studies have found that while the language used to teach each of the content areas may vary, programs can be effective if there is quality instruction and fidelity of implementation of the chosen model (Gomez, Freeman & Freeman, 2005; Lindholm-Leary, 2005).

Curriculum and Instructional Materials

The dual language program uses the SCSD CCLS-aligned ELA Curriculum and Envision Math. Instructional materials from the American Reading Company provide a literacy-based program that provides thematic content for science and social studies in both English and Spanish.

Dual Language Program Assessments

Effective dual language programs use assessment measures that are aligned with and include accountability for bilingual and biliteracy goals and utilize multiple measures in both languages to assess students' progress toward meeting those goals (Howard et al., 2007; Lindholm-Leary, 2005; Lindholm-Leary, 2012). Effective schools use assessment measures that are aligned with the school's (1) vision and goals and (2) appropriate curriculum and related standards (Lindholm-Leary, 2005). To do this effectively, assessment measures need to be aligned with current curriculum standards and be provided in the languages of instruction. Assessments should be carried out in consistent and systematic ways, and results should be used for accountability measures and also used to monitor students' progress over time.

Biliteracy is one of the goals of dual language programs, and therefore assessment of literacy skills in the partner language, as well as in English, needs to be included in monitoring students' progress. Appropriate expectations based on second language acquisition research need to be set for students taught and tested in two languages. Dual language programs require the use of multiple measures in both languages to assess students' progress toward meeting bilingual and biliteracy goals along with curricular and content-related goals (Lindholm-Leary, 2005; Howard, et al., 2007).

New York State Assessments in Languages Other Than English

The New York State Department of Education (NYSED) does not provide any translated editions of the Grades 3-8 English Language Arts Tests, as these tests measure a student's understanding of the English language. NYSED does provide Spanish, Haitian Creole, Chinese (traditional), Korean, and Russian editions of the Grades 3-8 Mathematics Tests, and Spanish, Haitian Creole, and Chinese (traditional) editions of the Grade 4 Elementary-Level Science Test for English language learners. Information about the translated version of these tests is provided in the New York State Testing Program Common Core English Language Arts and Mathematics Tests School Administrator's Manual Grades 3–8 2016, on page 9 and in Appendix F, at the link: <http://www.p12.nysed.gov/assessment/english/ela-ei.html>

NYSED also provides Regents high school examinations in a language other than English. Information about these tests is provided at the link below:

<http://www.p12.nysed.gov/assessment/sam/secondary/section2.html#admin-ell>

Vertical Articulation to Secondary Programs

Current research suggests that dual language programs lead to higher student outcomes when they are provided to the participating students for at least 6 years (Howard, et. al., 2007). This is the average amount of time required to reach native-like proficiency and grade-level achievement, as confirmed by several evaluation studies on immersion and bilingual programs (Lindholm-Leary & Borsato, 2006; Saunders & O'Brien, 2006).

To continue to develop and expand students' bilingualism and biliteracy and to provide them with college and career readiness skills, it is important to provide relevant course offerings at the secondary level that are vertically articulated with dual language programs at the elementary level. Continuing to develop bilingualism and biliteracy skills at the secondary level can prepare students with the skills, knowledge and level of proficiency necessary to use two languages in higher education and career opportunities.

SCSD is developing middle school course offerings that will be available to students who wish to continue their language studies after completion of the elementary dual language program. These courses will be vertically articulated so that they build upon the skills the student have developed at the elementary level and provide a seamless transition to relevant language courses at the high school level.

SCSD Elementary Seal of Biliteracy

SCSD is exploring the creation of an Elementary Seal of Biliteracy that could be awarded to students successfully completing an elementary dual language program. This seal would recognize the students' efforts and accomplishments in the dual language program and serve as an intermediate milestone and additional incentive for students to continue their language education at the secondary level to work toward receiving a high school Seal of Biliteracy on their diploma.

More information about the NYS Seal of Biliteracy can be found on this link:

<http://www.p12.nysed.gov/biling/bilinged/NewYorkStateSealofBiliteracy.html>

English as a New Language (ENL) Program Model

English as a New Language (ENL), also known as English as a Second Language (ESL), and "English for Speakers of Other Languages" (ESOL), is a specific discipline taught by certified ENL teachers where specific methodologies and instructional materials are used to allow students to learn English systematically and cumulatively. English as a New Language instruction is designed to develop skills in listening, speaking, reading, writing and communicating in English through the integration of academic content appropriate for the student's age, grade level and English language skills. As per New York State Commissioner's Regulations (CR-Part 154), ENL instruction includes both content and a language arts instructional component. Explicit, intensive, and focused instruction in language arts is provided by ENL teachers that maximizes a student's academic language proficiency and reading comprehension. ELL/MLL students receive English as a New Language (ENL) instruction from the ENL teacher delivered to their stage of language development that facilitates and accelerates their language acquisition and develops cross-curricular academic skills.

ELL/MLL Instructional Models

The ENL program is built on the premise that all children can learn best in a language mode that is comprehensible. Limited English proficient students are provided the services they need in order to acquire English and participate fully in the total school curriculum and activities. Parent orientation sessions are given at each building to encourage parental participation. The models of ENL instruction currently in the SCSD is outlined in Figure 5.

Stand-Alone model: In this model, ELLs/MLLs are taken out of the mainstream classroom for part of the day to receive language support from an ENL teacher.

Integrated Co-Teaching model: In this model, the ENL teacher comes into the mainstream classroom or the mainstream teacher goes into the ENL room and works with the content area teacher to provide extra language support to ELLs/MLLs.

Sheltered (self-contained) model: In the sheltered model, ELLs/MLLs are placed with other ELLs/MLLs in a content area classroom where they receive instruction from teachers trained in sheltering techniques.

Language Academy model: In this model, the program is designed to meet ELL SIFE needs in the areas of acculturation, literacy, and numeracy. Students have access to all curricular and extra-curricular opportunities. Teachers collaborate regularly to monitor progress, instructional practices, exit criteria, and transitions for students to return to their home school.

ENL Instructional Materials

The SCSD ENL Department is using the ENL CCLS-aligned, SCSD Board of Education approved National Geographic series, Reach/Inside/Edge, for grades K-12, Fundamentals/Inside the USA for newcomers in the Language Academy.

Special Education and ELL/MLL Designation

When the Committee on Special Education (CSE) develops an individualized education program (IEP) for an ELL/MLL student with a disability, it must consider the language needs of the student as they relate to the student's IEP as well as the special education supports and services a student needs to address his or her disability and to support the student's participation and progress in the general education curriculum. Such considerations include, but are not limited to:

- the student's need for special education programs and services to support the student's participation and progress in English language arts instruction, content area instruction in English and ENL instruction
- whether the student needs bilingual special education and/or related services

ELL/MLL students are entitled to certain testing accommodations during the period of time that they are designated ELL/MLL pursuant to Part 154 and for up to two years immediately after they have achieved proficiency on the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT). However, it is still the responsibility of the CSE to identify in the student's IEP any individual testing accommodations needed by the student as a result of his or her disability, which may include, but are not limited to, the same testing accommodations that the student is entitled to as an ELL/MLL or former ELL/MLL student.

To ensure that the IEPs for ELL/MLL students are appropriately developed, personnel with knowledge of second language needs and how these needs relate to the student's disability are required to be invited to participate in CSE meetings.

ENL programs should be considered general education core instruction for all ELL/MLL students. In the first instance, each ELL/MLL student with a disability must be provided the opportunity to participate in the district's ENL program. This may mean that special education services, accommodations, program modifications and/or supplementary supports and services, for example, may be needed to support that student's participation and progress in the ENL program. It may also mean that the CSE may recommend that the ENL program be provided to the student in his/her special class(es).

When the CSE has determined that the student cannot, because of his/her disability, participate in the district's general bilingual education program or free-standing ENL program, it must consider specially designed instructional programs provided by appropriately qualified staff that would:

1. support the development of the student's skills in the areas of understanding, speaking, reading, writing and communicating in English, through the integration of academic content appropriate for the student's age, grade level, English language skills, and level of English proficiency
2. develop the cognitive skills of the ELL/MLL student

This does not mean, however, that specially designed instruction (e.g., specialized reading instruction or supplemental instruction provided in a resource room) can replace a student's right to access the district's free-standing ENL program as a result of issues such as scheduling or availability of staff to provide such services.

Section 154.3(k)(2) of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education gives parents the option to "withdraw their children only from participation in a bilingual education program," but not from ENL services. It does not give a CSE or any other district personnel the authority to determine that a student with a disability will not receive any ENL instruction unless the student has been re-designated English proficient pursuant to Part 154 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education.

Further, section 154.3(l) of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education allows the CSE to determine whether the required Part 154 services can be met by participation in general education classes or must be met, in part or in total, through special education programs and services (e.g., a bilingual special class; a special class with ENL instruction provided by appropriately qualified staff in the special class; bilingual counseling). It does not authorize the CSE to determine that an ELL/MLL student with a disability will not receive any services pursuant to Part 154. This section of the Regulations also provides that a student with a disability who is also receiving services pursuant to Part 154 would be counted as both an ELL/MLL student and a student with a disability for purposes of calculating State aid pursuant to section 3602 of the Education Law.

Even if the students are in special classes in the school district, they are entitled to receive ENL and, as appropriate, bilingual education programs of the district. For a student with a disability placed by the CSE in an out-of-district program (e.g., BOCES, approved private school), the CSE should consider how bilingual and/or language arts instructional programs, as such terms are defined in section 154.2 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, can be made available to the student in the out-of-district placement, including, but not limited to consideration of whether the student could participate in the sending public school district's free-standing ENL program.

Declassification from ELL/MLL Status

Part 154 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education establishes that for a student to exit from ELL/MLL status and therefore no longer be eligible to receive mandated bilingual education or free-standing ENL programs, the student must meet one of the following criteria:

Option 1: Scoring at the Proficient/Commanding level on the NYSESLAT [154-2.3(m)(1)(i)]

Option 2: Scoring at the Advance/Expanding level on the NYSESLAT and receive a score of 3 or higher on a grade 3-8 ELA assessment OR a score of 65 or higher on the Regents Exam in English [154-2.3(m)(1)(ii)]

Option 3: Regulation: Students with Disabilities [154-2.3(m)(2)]

Therefore, until an ELL/MLL student, including a student with a disability, meets one of the criteria, the district is responsible to address the student's language needs pursuant to Part 154 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education and the student is, for accountability reporting purposes, an ELL/MLL student. This is true regardless of whether the student attends the public school or has been placed in an out-of-district program by the CSE. The school district does not have the authority to cease providing the Part 154 services to these students when, for example, the CSE believes that the student's disability is the sole determinant factor for the student's score on the NYSESLAT.

How are ELLs/MLLs designated as English Proficient?

Students must continue to receive language support services until they score English Proficient or Commanding on the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT), which is administered to ELLs/MLLs every spring.

The New York State English as a Second Language Test (NYSESLAT)

The New York State English as a Second Language Test (NYSESLAT) is an annual exam administered to students who have previously been identified as ELLs/MLLs based on their score on the NYSITELL given at initial placement. It is administered in April and May of every year and consists of four sections: listening, speaking, reading, and writing. If a student scores at the proficient level or Commanding, he/she is exited from an ELL/MLL designation and is entitled to transitional services in support of his/her complete mainstreaming. Any student who scores below proficient will continue to be designated as ELL/MLL and will be required to take the exam again the following year.

The district's Office of Shared Accountability ensures that the district's eSchool student data system and all ELL/MLL students' assessment information is reconciled and accurate for teachers, building administrators and district planning teams to use.

Monitoring of Former English Language Learners

The district is required to provide at least two years of Former ELL/MLL services to support students who exit out of ELL/MLLs status including:

- A half unit of study of Integrated ENL in ELA, math, Science or Social Studies OR
- An approved monitoring process that will support each Former ELL/MLL's (FELL) language development and academic progress [154-2.3(h)(1)(v)] and [154-2.3(h)(1)(v)]

The ENL department established a monitoring process that was implemented January 2016. Utilizing the Ellevation data platform, students will be monitored for student trends, surface concerns and identify Former ELLs experiencing academic difficulty. This platform and monitoring plan entails the collaboration of content area teachers, ENL Specialists, support staff, and administrators, to ensure that students are succeeding in mainstream environments and, if not, to provide extra language support when students are struggling. Content area and ENL teachers will be expected to complete electronic monitoring forms three times a year (fall, winter, spring) to document student progress after each benchmark.

Struggling students will be

- Flagged in Ellevation Monitoring to all teachers (content and ENL)
- Monitored by the ENL teacher(s)
- Placed in English language development

intervention groups using research-based strategies and programs when needed

The Ellevation How-To Guide for SCSD, ENL Teacher's Ellevation Handbook, and Verification Form for ENL Parent Meetings can be found on this link:

Summative Assessment

New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT)

The New York State Education Department has developed the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT) to measure the English language proficiency of ELLs/MLLs across the State, grades K through 12. Administered each spring, the NYSESLAT is designed to measure the growth in English language ability of ELLs/MLLs from year to year. The NYSESLAT consists of four subtests based on language skills—speaking, listening, reading, and writing. The items on the NYSESLAT are written by ENL and bilingual teachers in New York State and are based on the Common Core Learning Standards. The NYSESLAT identifies the English proficiency level of ELLs/MLLs as Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, Expanding, or Commanding. The NYSESLAT also identifies those ELLs/MLLs who have achieved a Proficient level or Commanding of English and no longer require ENL and/or bilingual services.

The NYSESLAT is designed specifically for ELLs/MLLs. Therefore, testing accommodations ordinarily permitted for LEP/ELLs taking other State tests are not permitted for NYSESLAT. ELLs/MLLs with disabilities should be provided the testing accommodations specified in their IEP or Section 504 Accommodation Plan (504 Plan), with the two exceptions:

- The Reading subtest may NOT be read to ANY student

- For the Writing subtest, students may NOT receive assistance or have their responses corrected for spelling, grammar, paragraphing, or punctuation.

New York State Accommodations for ELL/MLLs

The following testing accommodations on New York state content tests are allowable for ELLs and former ELLs (for up to two years immediately after they have achieved proficiency on the NYSESLAT):

- Time Extension (All Exams). Schools may extend the test time for ELLs/MLLs.
- Separate Location (All Exams). State examinations may be administered to ELLs/MLLs individually or in small groups in a separate location.
- Third Reading of Listening Selection (English Language Arts Exams Only). Proctors may read the listening passage on the Regents Comprehensive Examination in English a third time to ELLs/MLLs.
- Bilingual Glossaries (All Exams Except Foreign Language). ELLs/MLLs may use bilingual glossaries when taking State examinations in all subjects except foreign languages. The bilingual glossaries may provide only direct translations of words. Bilingual glossaries that provide definitions or explanations are not permitted.
- Simultaneous Use of English and Alternative Language Editions (Not Allowed for English Language Arts & Foreign Language Examinations). For State examinations for which the Department provides written translations, ELLs/MLLs may use both English and an alternative language edition of the test simultaneously. However, they should be instructed to record all of their responses in only one of the two editions.
- Oral Translation for Lower Incidence

Languages (Not allowed for English Language Arts & Foreign Language Examinations). Schools may provide ELLs/MLLs with an oral translation of a state examination when there is no translated edition provided by the Department. All translations must be oral, direct translations of the English editions. Written translations are not allowed. No clarifications or explanations may be provided.

- Writing Responses in the Native Language (Not allowed for English Language Arts Examinations). ELLs/MLLs making use of alternative language editions or of oral translations of state examinations may write their responses to the open-ended questions in their native language.

Interventions

The school is responsible for outlining the interventions that have been developed, implemented and monitored to address the academic issues presented by the student. Formative and summative assessments that are used to measure growth must also be differentiated and appropriate for ELLs' current level of language proficiency so that assessments are comprehensible and accurately measure the construct designed to be measured by the assessment.

“When an ELL student becomes the focus of concern, the instructional program itself must be examined to determine the match between the demands of the curriculum and the student’s current proficiency in the language of instruction.” It is important to examine the achievement of the student’s “true peers” (i.e., students with similar language proficiencies and cultural and experiential backgrounds) to see if they are excelling or not. If a majority of “true peers” within the school are struggling, this is an indication that the instruction is less than optimal for that group of students. (Esparza Brown, 2008).

Annual Measurable Achievement Objectives (AMAO)

Each year, based on federal accountability requirements, the New York State Education Department (NYSED) provides Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) Title III AMAO information to Local Educational Agencies (LEA) and Title III consortia based on assessment results from the prior school year. The measure of growth is based on the following objectives:

AMAO 1: Annual increases in the number of percentages of LEP/ELLs making progress in learning English.

AMAO 2: Annual increases in the number of percentage of LEP/ELLs attaining English language proficiency.

AMAO 3: Adequate yearly progress (AYP) for LEP/ELL subgroup in meeting grade-level academic achievement standards in English Language Arts (ELA) and mathematics.

Grading Guidelines

Teachers should continue to have high expectations for all their students. ELL/MLL students should be able to achieve curricular expectations as they are learning English. However, these expectations may need to be modified and certain considerations should be made when assessing the progress of ELL/MLL students.

Expectations should be adjusted to:

- the length of time the student has been in the U.S.
- the student's previous educational experiences
- the amount of cultural adjustment needed
- the progress they are making in language acquisition

Curriculum expectations for the ELL/MLL student should be modified as needed, taking the above into consideration, and their grade should reflect achievement in regard to the modified expectations. ELL/MLL students should not receive a failing grade unless appropriately modified work is not completed or if the course or subject is not one where modifications or accommodations for language proficiency would be necessary. ELL/MLL student grades should reflect effort and progress considering the student's level of proficiency.

Retention Policy for ELLs/MLLs

In accordance with federal law, ELL students may not be retained in a grade based solely on the lack of English language proficiency. ELLs shall not be retained if instructional strategies, materials and assessments have not been modified and modifications documented to meet their needs. ELLs must be provided with comprehensive instruction appropriate for his/her level of English proficiency and equal, in amount, sequence and scope as that provided to non-ELLs. All correspondence to parents/guardians concerning failures and/or retentions must be in the student's primary home language.

Foreign Language Credit

ELL/MLL students may be awarded three (3) to five (5) units of credit in LOTE for documented school attendance and residence in an 'other than-English speaking' environment, provided that the experience occurs at age 11 or older and that the residence and school attendance resulted in direct contact with that environment, its language and people.

- If residence and school attendance occurs up to age 11, the school may award up to three (3) units of credit under the conditions described above;
- If residence and school attendance occurs up to age 12, the school may award up to four (4) units of credit under the conditions described above.
- If residence and school attendance occurs up to age 13 and beyond, the school may award up to five (5) units of credit based on the conditions described above.

NOTE: No more than five units of credit in a LOTE may be awarded for school attendance and residence in an 'other than-English speaking environment'.

Student Access to Curricular and Extracurricular Services

English language learners participate with their English speaking peers in regular classes provided for art, music, physical education and extra-curricular activities. The district ensures that students who are enrolled in a Bilingual Education or English as a New Language program have meaningful opportunities to participate with other students in all extra-curricular activities. Each building provides a variety of activities which ELLs can choose to participate.

It is the policy of the Syracuse City School District to provide equitable access to all district programs for limited English proficient students. The district will make an effort to do whatever is educationally appropriate to address the English and educational needs of the limited English proficient student so that he/she can compete with his/her same age English background peers and at the age appropriate grade level curriculum. Qualifying students will be identified and placed in programs and services in accordance with New York State regulations and guidelines.

Appeals for Graduation

The following information on an appeal to graduate is courtesy of the New York State Department of Education. The original source can be found online by visiting <http://www.p12.nysed.gov/ciai/gradreq/CurrentAppealForm.pdf>.

"Beginning with students entering grade 9 in 2005, all students who have taken and passed certain courses in preparation to take a Regents examination and have a 65 course average but whose highest score on the Regents examination is below but within five points of the 65 passing score (60-64) may appeal to graduate with a local or Regents diploma using this lower score. Students who are granted one appeal from their local school district under this provision shall earn a Regents diploma. Students who are granted two appeals under this provision shall earn a local diploma. Through this appeal, the student seeks a waiver of the graduation assessment requirement in this subject area.

English Language Learners

Students who are identified as English language learners pursuant to Part 154 Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, and who first entered school in the United States in grade 9 or above, may appeal to graduate with a local diploma if they have taken the required Regents examination in English language arts at least twice and earned a score on this exam between 55 and 59. Such students may also appeal a score within 3 points of passing on one additional examination and graduate with a local diploma. “

Professional Development

Each school district shall provide professional development to all teachers and administrators that specifically addresses the needs of English Language Learners. Consistent with section 80-3.6 and section 100.2(dd) of this Title, a minimum of fifteen percent (15%) of the required professional development clock hours for all ENL teachers prescribed by Part 80 of this Title shall be dedicated to language acquisition, including a focus on best practices for co-teaching strategies and integrating language and content instruction for English Language Learners. For all Bilingual and English as a New Language teachers, a minimum of fifty (50%) of the required professional development clock hours prescribed by Part 80 of this Title shall be dedicated to language acquisition in alignment with core content area instruction, including a focus on best practices for co-teaching strategies and integrating language and content instruction for English Language Learners. (CR-Subpart 154-2, p. 48).

Long-term, ongoing, high quality professional development opportunities will be provided District-wide for ENL/bilingual classroom teachers, administrators, and support staff who work with ELL/MLL students in grades K-12. The professional development topics are tailored to the areas identified by buildings, teachers, and all support staff that work with ELLs. All staff development is reflective of ELL/MLL instructional needs and requirements, and will be designed to be relevant, ongoing, and of sufficient intensity and duration to have positive and lasting impact on teachers' ability to effectively instruct ELL/MLL students, by increasing the understanding and use of curricula, research-based methodologies, and assessment measures, and instructional strategies that assist ELLs/MLLs in becoming proficient in English.

Family Engagement

Parent Communication

Before and during the registration process, it is important for parents to receive clear information about the goals and implementation of bilingual programs and English as a New Language programs in a language and manner understandable to them to enable them to fully understand the program model and make an informed decision about program choice.

Current guidelines in CR Subpart 154-2 specifically require that:

- (1) The parent or other person in parental relation of a student designated as an English Language Learner who is a new entrant, as defined in section 117.2(d) of this Title, shall be provided a high quality orientation session on the state standards, assessments, and school expectations for English Language Learners, as well as the program goals and requirements for Bilingual Education and English as a New Language programs, as prescribed by the commissioner. Such orientation shall occur prior to a student's enrollment in a program provided that a student shall not be withheld from timely program placement if a parent or person in parental relation does not attend an orientation session. Such orientation shall be provided in a language or mode of communication that the parent or person in parental relation best understands.

(2) Following such orientation, the parent or other person in parental relation of a student designated as an English Language Learner shall be notified, in English and the language or mode of communication the parent or other person in parental relation best understands, that, where available, Bilingual Education shall be the default program. Such notice must also indicate that a parent or person in parental relation may direct that his or her child be placed in an English as a New Language program if the parent or person in parental relation does not want his or her child to be enrolled in a Bilingual Education program.

(i) The notification shall explain the goals and purpose of Bilingual Education and English as a New Language programs available in the district (CR Subpart 154-2 pgs. 38-39).

After parents have selected to place their child in a bilingual program or English as a New Language program, the need for ongoing clear communication and family engagement continues.

Parent Meetings

Current guidelines in CR Subpart 154-2 require that parent notification and communication be in the language best understood by the parents as indicated and on file in each ELL/MLL student's cumulative record. School personnel is required to meet with parents or persons in parental relation of ELLs/MLLs at least once a year, in addition to other generally required meetings with parents, to discuss with parents their child's academic content and language development progress and needs. CR Subpart 154-2 specifically requires that:

School districts shall individually meet with the parents or persons in parental relation of English Language Learners at least once a year, in addition to parent-teacher conferences, quarterly progress meetings or other such scheduled meetings provided for parents or persons in parental relation of all students, to discuss the goals of the program, their child's language development progress, their child's English language proficiency assessment results, and language development needs in all content areas. This additional meeting shall include all school staff necessary to sufficiently inform the parents or persons in parental relation about the child's language development in all content areas in English and in the child's home language in the case of students enrolled in a Bilingual Education program. Such meeting shall be conducted with a qualified interpreter/translator in the language or mode of communication the parent or person in parental relation best understands. School districts shall determine the manner and form of such individual parent meetings, in accordance with local collective bargaining agreements (CR Subpart 154-2, p.41).

Teachers in the ENL department will document all parent/guardian meetings in the Ellevation Platform. The Ellevation How-To Guide for SCSD, ENL Teacher's Ellevation Handbook, and Verification Form for ENL Parent Meetings can be found on this link:

Effective Program Features for Family Engagement

To enhance ELL family engagement, there are a variety of features that programs can implement to make the school a place conducive to the inclusion of parents and families of students in the program. These include:

- Provide a variety of home/school collaboration activities
- Maintain a welcoming environment for parents and community
- Value bilingualism and biliteracy
- Hire office staff who speak the languages represented in the school
- Make announcements in languages represented in the school
- Post signs in the school building in multiple languages
- Value multiculturalism
- Foster a sense of belonging with the families
- Ask parents to volunteer in the school using their linguistic and cultural skills

- Utilize the services of bilingual Nationality Workers (similar to parent liaisons) to connect with parents

(Adapted from Howard et al., 2007)

Nationality Workers

Nationality Workers help our ELL parents understand the U.S. educational system and how they can best help their child succeed. In many other countries, the teacher is responsible for educating the child, and the parent is not expected to be involved. It is very different in the U.S., and refugee parents may not understand the expectations. Depending on their cultural background, they may be confused as to why the teacher would expect the parents to assist in educating their child.

Nationality Workers provide a variety of services to facilitate communication between students, parents and school personnel. The intent is to bridge the cultural and linguistic gaps between the home and the school. They are liaisons who assist school personnel to communicate effectively with refugee families, or any ELL family to address areas of concern. The intent is to bridge the cultural and linguistic gaps between the home and the school in order to:

- increase parents' engagement with their children's schools
- increase parents' involvement in their children's educational development outside of school
- increase awareness of refugee/immigrant education issues among schools, service providers, and policy makers

In addition to, working with schools, teachers and parents, Nationality Workers also provide professional development sessions on their culture and refugee experiences in order that educators gain an awareness of the diverse backgrounds of their students and families, and how to best communicate and bridge cultural differences.

The ENL Office has Nationality Workers from Sudan, Myanmar, Bhutan and Somalia, all of whom entered the U.S. as refugees. Professional development on developing cultural awareness and addressing educating refugee students is available by contacting the ENL Office.

Communicating in the Native Languages of Parents

Effective communication with parents begins at the time of registration and upon their first encounter with the school district. Parents and students are given an orientation to the district, the various programs offered, the resources available and the personnel who are available for assistance. Parents are notified of their child's placement into the Bilingual or ENL program in the initial meeting at the Central registration Center, and the information is provided in their native language through an interpreter. A concerted effort is made to provide parents information in their native language. At the building level communication to parents is provided in their native language, with the assistance of the Nationality Workers at parent orientations, parent information sessions or family events. At various times throughout the year, a variety of workshops and informational sessions are provided to parents within their communities and housed at various school sites throughout the district. These workshops and the information sessions are provided to parents to maintain communication, offer pertinent information and to answer parent questions and concerns.

Interpretation Services

The District provides many opportunities for parents to effectively communicate with their school, and offers consultation as well as assistance to help parents feel included in their child's education process. In addition, the district provides many opportunities to parents to attend informal sessions, workshops, and events that provide pertinent information about their child's education, program types and services. These opportunities are often provided on a building level, at a district-wide level, and in several languages with the assistance of the Nationality Workers and other interpreter support.

Language Line

The ENL office provides all SCSD staff members with an access code for telephone interpretation services for urgent or emergency situations. This service is provided to enhance communication with parents who have limited English proficiency. Language Line, the world's largest, global interpreter service provides 24/7 availability for more than 170 languages, offering complete confidentiality and consistent access within seconds to the highest quality interpreters.

Translation Requests

Many of the frequently used SCSD documents, Appendix C-H, have been translated into the most commonly used languages (Spanish, Somali, Arabic, and Nepali, and Karen) can be found on the SCSD ENL webpage. If you have a specific request for the translation of a frequently used SCSD document, please contact the SCSD Communications Office.

Glossary

AMAO Annual Measurable Achievement Objectives

AMAOs are targets set by the state that specify the percentage of ESOL students who are expected to attain English language proficiency and the percentage of ESOL students who are expected to improve their level of English language proficiency.

Bilingualism The ability to communicate successfully in two languages, with the same relative degree of proficiency. It is important to note that bilinguals are rarely perfectly balanced in their use of two languages; one language is usually dominant (Baker, 2000).

Biliteracy The ability to communicate and comprehend thoughts and ideas using grammatical systems and vocabulary from two languages, as well as to write both languages.

Bilingual Instruction Instruction using two languages, one of which is English and the other the students' first language.

CR PART 154 Commissioner's Regulations on the education of LEP/ELLs (NYS)

ELL (English Language Learner) An individual who is in the process of actively acquiring English, and whose primary language is one other than English. The student often benefits from language support programs to improve academic performance in English due to challenges with reading, comprehension, speaking, and/or writing skills in English. Other terms that are commonly used to refer to ELLs are language minority students, English as a Second Language (ESL) students, culturally and linguistically diverse (CLD) students, and limited English proficient (LEP) students.

ENL English as a New Language

HLQ Home Language Questionnaire

Integrated Instruction Students receive core content area and English language development instruction which includes home language supports and appropriate ELL scaffolds. Integrated ENL instruction must be carried out either by a co-teaching approach with a NYS certified ESOL teacher who teaches with the content area teacher, or by an English as a Second Language (ESOL) certified teacher who is dually certified in another content area being taught. In this context, integrated refers to the content.

LEP Limited English Proficient-A term used by the U.S. Department of Education to refer to ELLs who are enrolled or getting ready to enroll in elementary or secondary school and who have an insufficient level of English to meet a state's English expertise requirements. However, the expression English language learner (ELL) has started to replace LEP, to avoid the implication that nonnative-English-speaking students are deficient (National Council of Teachers of English, 2008). The former term for LEP was limited English speaking (LES), and was used in the first authorization of the Bilingual Education Act (Title VII of ESEA, prior to NCLB), in 1968.

MLL Multilingual Learner

Newcomer A non-English speaking student who has never attended American schools and is new to this country

NYSESLAT New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test

NYSITELL New York State Identification Test for English Language Learners

OBE Office of Bilingual Education (NYS Education Department)

OELA Office of English Language Acquisition (US Department of Education)

Stand-Alone Instruction Students receive English language development instruction taught by a NYS certified ENL teacher in order to acquire the English language needed for success in core content area.

Sheltered Instruction An approach in which students develop knowledge in specific subject areas through the medium of English. Teachers adjust the language demands of the lesson in many ways to make instruction more accessible to students of different English proficiency levels.

SIFE Students with Interrupted Formal Education

Title III Title III of the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 (NCLB) is a part of the legislation enacted to ensure that limited English proficient (LEP) students, including immigrant children and youth, develop English proficiency and meet the same academic content and achievement standards that other children are expected to meet.
